

A new approach to legal education

Practice oriented teaching methods at the Széchenyi István University

dr. jur. Gergely G. KARÁCSONY PhD

Head of Dean's Office

Who tells us what to do...?

- Administrative decisions
 - Small number of students
 - Dividing students into study groups of 15-25
- In the curriculum
 - „Practical courses”
 - Guest lecturers
 - Mandatory work practice
- Extracurricular activities
 - Moot court
 - Legal case solving competitions
- Finding new ways: tutored court practice instead of lectures in the last semester

- Moot courts, competitions...
- Students find their first jobs within 3 months
- Positive feedback from employers (courts, law firms, etc.)
